The Plumbers Were Ristaken.

The commissioners have notified T. V. Noonan, secretary of the Plumbers and Gas Fitters' association, in reference to the resolution adopted at a meeting of the association, protesting against the engineer department competing with plumbers in either public or priadopted at a meeting of the association, pro-testing against the engineer department com-peting with plumbers in either public or pri-vate work; that Assistant Engineer Commis-sioner Townshend reports that Capt Hoxle agreed before his departure, that the work of introducing the water supply to the new pen-sion building, was properly done. "Labor and material were to be paid for by Gen. Meigs, not by the city, and Capt. Hoxle was to see that the work was done, and good material used." There would not appear to be in this any interference or competition with the clumbers in any way, but simply an effort to give the United States government the benefit of the experience acquired in laying city maines, by supervising the work done by plumbers. "I am directed," says the scere-tary of the board of commissioners, "to state that it would appear from the foregoing state-ment that the resolutions referred to were adopted under a misapprehension of the facts of the case."

A Solemn Hebrew Festival.

A Solemn Hebrew Festival.

The Hebrews of this city spent yesterday in the tabernacles. Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, the most solemn festival of the Hebrew year, began at sunset Sunday and ended at sunset yesterday. It is a day of atonement for all sins, and is the only one commanded by the Mossic law. The stores of I-raelites throughout the city generally were closed yesterday until sunset. In addition to the services in the synagogues all Hebrews over 18 years of age are expected to fast during the day. In the orthodox synagogues the men wore shrouds and the rabble white robe. In the reformed synagogue this custom was not observed. The services consist of prayers and reading of the Scriptures, and both the synagogues in this city were largely attended. During the services can be dead were recited and deeds of charity done in remembrance of the departed.

here mixed enlistments may take place, I ed it a duly to the best interests of the corps of the service to recommend that this be not one. It is due Mr. Greene to say that his prominary camination papers place him near he lead of all the applicants for enlistment to he signal corps.
Under date of Aug. 4, Secretary Lincoln reided, in effect, that if reasons existed for exideding colored men from the exclusively miltary branches of the service, those reasons id not apply to the signal corps, the duties of shose members were no more military than hose of the clerks in the war department.
Gen. Hazen replied that their mus be either law or a custom of the service excluding

Mr. Greene was then enlisted.

JAMES GRAHAM'S TROUBLES.

He Tells How His Wife Ban His Farm in Virginia. James S. Graham, who has entered suit for divorce from Sarah A. Graham, yesterday filed an answer to the petition of his wife for alimony and counsel fees through his solicitor filed an answer to the petition of his wife for alimony and counsel fees through his solicitor, Mr. Thomas P. Miller. He says that in 1880, when he married the defendant, she was without means and he provided her with a comfortable home on his farm in Virginia. The farm was unproductive, find in 1891 he came to this city to obtain employment to better support his family and left her on the farm with sufficient stock to work it and provide her with food. Since he has been in this city and up to about one month ago he sent meanly all of his earnings to her, and has from time to time purchased stock and sent it to the farm. In 1882 he discovered that the representations she made to him at the time of their marriage, to the effect that she was the widow of Fred. L. Smith, were untrue, and that Smith was living. He communicated this to her, and she admitted it to be true. He permitted her to live on the farm, but refused longer to supporther. About three weeks ago, without his knowledge or concent, she sold a number of cattle belonging to him and kept the proceeds. She shipped a valuable horse of his to this city, and sold it to a man named McDonald for $10. She also shipped the furniture here, and now has possession of it. The property of his that she wold, he thinks, is worth $500, and by disposing of it ashe has deprived him of the means with which to work the farm, and left him without any available resources whatever, and he has not a dollar with which to pay alimony or counsel fees.

IMPORTANT AND TRUE!

OPENING OF A NEW DEPARTMENT, CALLED THE ODDS AND ENDS" ON OUR SECOND FLOOR.

In it we shall place daily all such garments and articles for ladies and children's wear of which we have but one of a size; also, numbers which have been slightly damaged from handling or other causes; in fact, all goods which we desire to close out at a great sacrifice. The price put on these articles will be about and in some cases even much lower.

ONE-FOURTH LESS THAN ORIGINAL COST,

For instance, we have started to-day with all the "Odds and Ends" of our Summer and Fall Garments for ladies and children, and will close them at the ridiculously low price of $2 apiece.

Among the above lots are Newmarkets, Walking Coats, and Circula or ladies and children which formerly sold from $5 to $15 apiece.

In connection with the above you will find the balance of our last winter's stock of Newmarkets and Jackets, marked down to one-fourth

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

As our patrons are so numerous, we have concluded not to issue any Cards of Invitation, as too many of them miscarry and fail to reach the parties to whom addressed. Therefore, all former patrons of the house, as well as every other lady in Washington, are cordially invited to be present on this occasion, which will eclipse all former efforts. Each lady visitor will receive on those days a handsome and new design in Souvenirs. We have spared no pains and trouble to obtain and exhibit all that the foreign and domestic markets can produce, and are proud to say that in style, elegance, and beauty, as well as extensiveness of assortment, we have again earned our well-established reputation we so highly prize, as being the leaders in the millinery line.

Concerning Boys.

Fathers think it rough that they have to pay for tear as well as wear of Boys' Clothing. Boys think it strange that the guv'nor makes so much fuss about the trifle of a new

Our mission is to lighten the parents' burden and please the boys with excellent clothing at very small prices. This department will have our most careful attention, and we hope to give Washington people a better chance at buying Boys' Clothing than they have yet had.
